This year's Celtic Fest Ohio is more than just a pint.

June 6, 2022 – Harveysburg, OH. . .Celtic Fest Ohio returns to Renaissance Park on Saturday, June 18 with exciting experiences and activities for all ages. Celtic Fest Ohio will utilize approximately half of the Renaissance festival village for its one-day Celtic extravaganza. Featuring two stages of music from traditional to Celtic Rock, Irish and Scottish dancing, border collie herding demonstrations, and so much more, this year's event offers something for everyone.

Yes, the pints will be filled with ice-cold ales and stouts, but Celtic Fest Ohio is so much more than just a pint. In fact, Celtic Fest Ohio offers activities geared towards the entire family.

Come see the gentle giants of Ireland in the Irish Wolfhound area. You can visit and learn all about this breed and how they have evolved from the battlefield to beloved pets.

Complete with a fashion show in the chapel, the 42nd Royal Highland Regiment Encampment portrays today's Black Watch as they appeared in North America circa 1777. The "Wall of Red" can also be seen walking through the festival grounds with bagpipes bellowing and drummers keeping time.

Border Collies are always a hit at Celtic Fest Ohio. Much smaller than their Irish Wolfhound friends, Border Collies with Alan Miller will deliver herding demonstrations with sheep and ducks.

Learn some cords and strum away with us during the Guitar Workshop at the chapel. Bring a friend to keep the beat they learn in the Bodhran Workshop.

Hear the pipes and drums from the Miami Valley Pipes and Drums in the Pepsi Pipin' It Up area or during their walkthroughs of the festival grounds.

Shamrock Shenanigans is a great way to bring family and friends together for a good cause. Work your way through the park solving riddles and rhymes and solve all six clues for a mystery pot o' gold. Proceeds go to the Massie Township Fire Department.

Enjoy Celtic food small plates during the “Taste of the Isles” happening twice during Celtic Fest Ohio. Cornish Pasty with Guinness Demi, Haggis with Ale Onion Gravy & Soda Bread and Irish Soda Bread Cookies are just a few of the delicious foods on the menu. Seating is limited to 100, so get your tickets in advance at www.celticfestohio.com.

Irish and Scottish Dancing can be seen on the Dance Stage all day long. Dance groups from all over will bring their own unique style to the hard shoe floor.

And, what would a Celtic festival be without shopping? Celtic Fest Ohio features over 50 vendors showcasing wares with Celtic flare, handmade items, and services. Scattered throughout the festival grounds, you can shop on the way from one stage to another.

Celtic Fest Ohio happens Saturday, June 18 at Renaissance Park in Waynesville. Hours are 11am to 10pm, rain or shine. Visit www.celticfestohio.com for a full schedule, activities, menu, and information to help plan your day.
